SPORTS REVIEW 1980-1981

There'll never be another Vice President like Richard.

Never.

The President made that promise to himself last Thursday afternoon, after Richard blew an important new-business presentation.

Richard isn't incompetent. The villain is his lunches, or rather the too-many drinks he often has at lunch. Come afternoon, he's just not as sharp as he was in the morning.

Richard is playing dice with his health. His old-fashioned business style is also sabotaging his career. Today, with competition so rough and stakes so high, even the most generous company can't be patient for long with an employee whose effectiveness ends at noon.

If you're a friend, do Richard a favour by reminding him of the good sense of moderation.

You can bet the man eyeing his job won't help him.

THE STING IS BACK! BEE PART OF IT!

The Concordia Department of Physical Education and Athletics under the directorship of Dr. Ed Enos is busily preparing for another season as the 1980-81 academic year approaches. This year Concordia will offer over 45 different intramural, instructional and recreational activities, as well as 13 varsity sports to the Concordia Community.

Last season was a strong year as the athletic teams captured six provincial championships and set new attendance records for the intramural programs. Whether you are interested in varsity or intramurals, competitive, instructional or recreational programs, as a participant or spectator, give the athletic program a look. YOU'LL LIKE IT.

Father Breen, Concordia's Vice-Rector whose portfolio includes supervision of the Department of Physical Education and Athletics, feels that athletics has a very important role to play within the University, and plans to be actively involved in the programme.

Breen sees the role of the athletic department as twofold; that of providing the students, faculty and staff with a diversified intramural programme which will cater to their personal recreational and fitness needs, and secondly of producing quality varsity teams to represent the school in intercollegiate action.

"Traditionally, the school's varsity teams have done very well and have been a strong reflection on Concordia," the vice-rector recently stated. "But just as important to the entire Concordia community is a strong, intramural programme. We are in a period when great emphasis is placed on fitness and participation in various activities. I believe that physical fitness is a definite component of university life, you cannot separate the body from the mind."

Father Breen attended Loyola High School and Loyola College, graduating from the college in 1945. During his student days at the West End Campus, he was involved in many extracurricular activities and was editor-in-chief of the Loyola News in 1945.

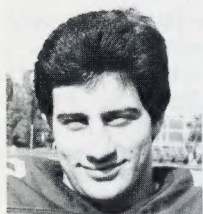

"In the 1940's, the nature of Loyola was very different", Breen recounted. "The worse thing you could be called by your classmates was a "3:30 man", a student who left school following the last class. It was expected of you to participate in as many extracurricular activities as possible.

Consider that in 1946, Father Breen's graduating year, there were only 26 graduates and a total of 120 students in the four year programme, while the Sir George graduating class of 1946 numbered 89. As enrollment skyrocketed following the War, the respective athletic departments were expanded to meet the needs of the growing student population.

For years both Loyola and Sir George Williams have maintained top-notch programmes despite a serious lack of adequate facilities. Breen feels that this problem will be eliminated when Concordia moves the Athletic Department to the Olympic Tower, either in 1981 or 1982. "As far as Concordia is concerned the move to the Olympic park will be a reality within three years", Breen related. "With the move to the Olympic site we will have eliminated our biggest problem and will be able to increase our scope greatly".

Father Breen was one of the first participants in the Bio-Physical Education's circuit fitness training. Although his recent appointment has hampered his daily exercise routine, Breen is planning to return to a daily programme as soon as he settles into his new position.

FOOTBALL

Coach Skip Rochette is anxiously awaiting the 1980 football season for several reasons. The veteran mentor feels that the Concordia program has acquired the needed ingredients for a winning university football squad; an outstanding coaching staff, an excellent schedule, a training camp roster which includes both quantity and quality, and the support of the school's administration and student body. Although Rochette is not yet promising a playoff contender, he is more than satisfied with the progress of his program.

While Rochette cautiously warns observers that the Stingers are still a young team, prone to mistakes caused by inexperience, he has declared that the football program is alive and well.

"Despite only one victory in our first two years, our rebuilding program is ahead of schedule," Rochette declared recently.

That victory occurred in what was really his first year, being hired just prior to the 1978 season.

"Our playoff chances will depend how quickly the team matures" Rochette added. "Our roster will include only three players with more than two years experience. That might hurt us this season, but will certainly help us in the long run."

"For the first time since my arrival (three years ago), we will have a nucleus of returning players who are tuned-in to the philosophy of the coaching staff," Skip added. "It is foolish to predict our win-loss record or our finish for the upcoming year, but I can guarantee that our program is on the upswing and that Concordia is definitely heading towards a league football championship."

One reason why coach Rochette is hesitant to make any predictions is the balance that will exist in the Eastern Section of the O.Q.I.F.C.... With the U.Q.T.R. patriotes dropping their football program, the Quebec schools (Concordia, McGill and Bishop's) will play each other twice and will play the Ontario teams (Ottawa, Carleton and Queen's) once. It is the consensus of most college football observers that the old adage 'that any team in the league can defeat any other on a given day' will hold true.

Rochette and his eight man coaching staff will welcome 70 prospects including 30 veterans, when training camp opens in late August. The Concordia coaching staff is one of the reasons for the continued improvement in the Concordia program.

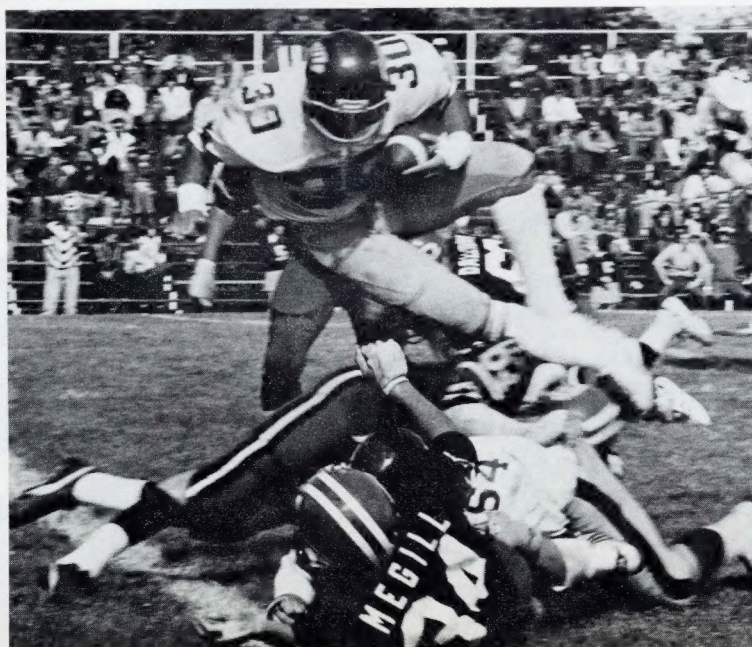

Offensively Concordia appears to have a strong running game intact with halfbacks Mario Spina and Frank Pileggi, and wide receivers Walter Dalla Riva and Gerry Prud'homme returning, as well as veteran linemen Rei Vandenbosch, Mike Taylor and Paul Palma. Walter Ferrero and Peter Malo again appear the top candidates for the quarterback position and Rochette is hopeful that their experience will bolster the Concordia attack.

Defensively, the Stingers will have their entire defensive secondary returning Bobby Durant, John Outridge, Brian Humes, Phil MacAuley, Ed Babin and Dennis Delaney, as well as linebackers Ross Reeves and Bob Carroll and linemen Angelo Mosca and Jacques Ouiment.

"We have concentrated on building a Montreal-based team, recruiting the top CEGEP and junior players from the local area, with out-of-town recruits acting as catalysts," stated Rochette. "When we recruit, we are looking for players with leadership qualities as well as playing ability, who want to work at being football players 12 months a year. It has been a long climb bringing respectability to our program and you must be able to take bumps and still come back. Our players have demonstrated that over the last two years."

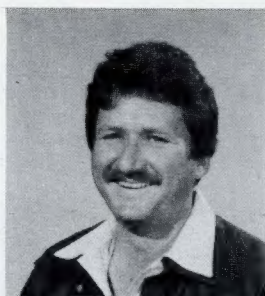

"We have been very satisfied with our recruiting over the last two years", Rochette continues, "but more importantly we have made contact with schools and players throughout Eastern Canada and Northeastern United States. Football people are aware of our program and the direction in which it is going".

Local football enthusiasts will see for themselves how far the Stingers have come, when Concordia hosts the Ottawa-Gee-Gees, September 1st in an exhibition match. Coach Rochette is convinced they will not be disappointed.

STINGER SOCCER

Head Coach, Harry Hus and the Varsity Soccer Team returned to the top spot in the Quebec University Athletics Association after a year's absence, as the Stingers experienced one of their finest seasons to date. yet it was also a year of disappointment as they came within a penalty kick of advancing to the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union finals.

The Stingers went undefeated in league play and had an overall 7-1-1 record, which included the championship of the Canadian Soccer Classic. However, they ran into trouble in the C.I.A.U. Eastern Canada finish when they were upset by St. Mary's 6-4 in a game decided by penalty kicks.

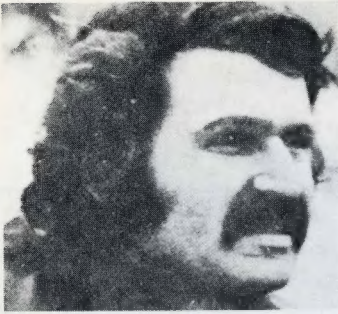

Hus, selected as the league's "Coach of the Year" has a large core of returning players including five who were selected as league All-Stars, goalie George Bselis; midfielders Steve Dunlop and Frank Perolli; Striker Joe Dakkak and winger Costas Karakatsanis. Dunlop added to his list of personal honors by being named to the All-Canadian team and as the team's "Most Valuable Player", while Bob Resch was chosen as the team's "Most Improved Player".

Other returning veterans include Lucien Delpesh, Ron Duguay, Francisco Campo and Mauro Bucci.

Assisting coach Hus this year will be Vladimir Pavlicik. Vlad who joined the Concordia Athletic staff last winter is a former member of the Canadian National Junior Soccer team.

"I feel that our club will be very strong," Hus asserted. "We have experienced players who are use to the pressure of playoff competition. We came close last year," he recounted, "but came up short in the semi-finals and our players are aware of what it takes to win the big one."

Under the revamped Coupe de Quebec schedule, the Stingers will play seven games against Quebec schools this year. They will host McGill (Sept. 28), U.Q.T.R (Oct. 4), U.Q.A.C. (Oct. 13) and Bishop's (Oct. 18) and play road games against Sherbrooke (Oct. 19), Laval (Oct. 25) and Montreal (Oct. 26). Concordia will participate in a tournament on November 1st and 2nd at McGill's Molson Stadium for the right to represent Quebec in the C.I.A.U. Eastern Finals and hopefully another crack at their third National Championship.

Harry Hus

HARRY HUS....COACH....Harry has accumulated an impressive list of athletic achievements in his nine years as head coach at Loyola/Concordia...his overall record includes eight league titles and two National Championships...Harry started his coaching career at Lachine High School and spent several seasons as junior varsity coach at Loyola College, taking the reins of the varsity club in 1971... Hus' accomplishments, however, have not been restricted to the coaching field...Harry received the Loyola "Athlete of the Year" award in 1964, when he starred for the basketball and soccer teams...he has also established himself as one of Canada's top basketball referees, representing the country in several international tournaments.

GOLF

After years of near misses, coach Mag Flynn led the Concordia Golf team to its first Quebec University Athletic Association championship. The Stingers shot a combined score of 637 for the two day course, two strokes better than the second-place Bishop's University.

Andy Fisher was the individual champion with scores of 72 and 80 for a total score of 152. Fisher's 72 score was the only below par score during the two day competition at the par 73 Milby Golf Course in Sherbrooke. Other Concordia scores were Tony Gelfand 79-78-157, Ian Transleau 81-82-163, Dave Amelotte 83-84-167, and Rob Miles 86-96-182.

Coach Flynn was obviously pleased with the team's performance. "This was a true Concordia championship with two of the five players from Sir George Campus, two from Loyola, and the fifth in graduate school," he remarked. "Fisher's sub-par round was the first at Milby in intercollegiate play, and it gave us a commanding nine-stroke lead going into the second and final round."

The title marked Concordia's first victory in Q.U.A.A. competition and followed second place finishes in 1977 and 1978.

STINGER

THE BASKETBALL BOUNCE

The 1979-80 season was one of major accomplishments for the Concordia Varsity Men's Basketball team, as they blended six newcomers and four veterans into the sixth-ranked team in Canada.

The Stingers swept through Quebec with a 12-0 regular season record and two victories in the playoffs which sent them to the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union National Championships in Calgary. There the Stingers dropped a heartbreaking 82-80 defeat to St. Mary's in the opening round, rebounded with a 96-90 triumph over Windsor, then lost to York 80-76 in the consolation final.

"For the last few years, we have been in a rebuilding process" coach Daigneault stated at the end of '80 campaign. "We lost some crucial games two years ago because of inexperience, but we stuck by our young players and they did the job for us this year. We are looking forward to some big things in the next couple of years and with good reason. Only three players, Harley Lawrence, Lloyd Pullen, and Leon Bynoe, from the championship squad will not be returning. Pullen finished his season in fine fashion, averaging 12 points and 5 rebounds at the Nationals. There is no doubt that we are going to miss Lloyd, both as a player and a leader, "the veteran coach added, "but with the calibre of our returning players we have a very sound nucleus for the coming season.

Rookie Doug Whaley led Concordia in most offensive categories last year. Whaley, the team's Most Valuable Player and Concordia Freshman Athlete of the Year, was an unanimous selection on the Quebec All-Star team as he averaged 19.3 points and 4.5 assists a game.

Gary McKeigan, a transfer from California State at Pennsylvania, improved steadily throughout the year, and was selected as the team's Most Improved Player. Rick Brown, a freshman out of Woodlands Secondary High School, earned a starting berth with his fine outside shooting. Rich Hagens did an outstanding job in the role of sixth man, playing both forward and guard and averaging over 7 points a game.

Rookies Alwyn Blackett and Steve McNeill round out the returning roster and typify the Concordia program. Blackett joined the team in the second semester and when injuries sidelined Lawrence and MacNeill in the Nationals, Alwyn was forced into action and responded with two strong games against Windsor and York, MacNeill had a fine rookie season coming off the bench and steadily improved throughout the season.

"Our guards showed poise and maturity down the stretch last year," the coach stated. "We eliminated the mistakes that hurt us the previous year. You could see the team's improvement every game."

Newcomers include big Jim Webster (6'7"), who is trying to nail down a starting berth despite never having played organized basketball; John Kordich, a point guard out of Oakwood High School in Toronto who is an excellent shooter and plays with great intensity; Noel Nedrick, a super quick guard; Robert Bush, a hitting guard who needs experience and Ian Hunter, 6'4" forward who has the size to play university basketball.

Indeed, the Stingers went on an amazing streak in the second semester, winning 16 consecutive games before bowing to St. Mary's in the Nationals. With six returning lettermen, coach Daigneault feels that the 1980-81 Stingers have the potential to repeat and improve on last year's outstanding performance.

The 1979-80 season was another outstanding year for Concordia Hockey. Especially so in view of the fact, that Coaches Arsenault and Philip decided to replace several returning lettermen with raw recruits. The tactic paid dividends particularly in non-conference and post-season play, where the Stingers won major victories in three tournaments, captured their 5th Q.U.A.A. title in a row and were only narrowly defeated 4-3 by Alberta in the Canadian Championships. The best showing a Stinger team has made since the 75/76 season.

Graduation Losses (3)

All-Canadian defenseman Michel Blais will be the Stinger's biggest loss. Blais decided to return for a year of post-graduate work, following the 1978-79 season and he again led the Stingers on and off the ice. High scoring winger, Roy Halpin graduates and All-Star goaltender Grant McNicholl will depart for professional hockey along with Blais this year.

Returning Lettermen (15)

This is the year of the sophomore as no less than 12 second year lettermen will return. Included in this group are high scoring freshmen, Roman Dziatkowicz, Mike Piano, Gilles Hebert and Kelly Kavic; forward/defenseman Mike Walker. Third year players returning include All-Canadian centre and new Concordia all-time scoring champion Doug Feasby, Winger Steve Young, defensemen Chris Brinster, Kevin O'Neill, Mike Elwood and goaltender Doug Dragasevich.

Outlook & Schedule

The Stingers face the toughest schedule in three years. It includes four tournament appearances and at least five games against tough N.C.A.A. opponents. The coaches are counting on the development of converted forward Mike Walker as a replacement for all-Canadian Michel Blais on defense. Junior defensemen Mike Elwood and Kevin O'Neill are also expected to strengthen the Stinger defense.

Newcomers

Probably the biggest surprise is the return of all-star center and former student national team player Kim Elliott. His return should make up for the loss of all-star winger Roy Halpin.

The Stingers will count heavily on local freshman talent this season. Five rookies from the Montreal area are included in the starting lineup. They are center Rick Donato, former MVP of the Jr. B. Pierrefonds Pirates, winger Rick Mancuso from CEGEP André Laurendeau, winger Brian Taylor, another former Pirate defenseman Pierre Durocher from CEGEP St. Laurent and Derrick Watt, also from the Pirates. Another big addition to the lineup is Ron Stoneburgh, the 6'5" defenseman from the Ontario Provincial Junior League.

FIELD HOCKEY

Cathy Haig replaces Mo Godbout as head coach of the Stinger Field Hockey team and has promised to continue building up the program. Haig, a former "Athlete of the Year" at McGill University and John Abbott College, is a member of the Canadian National Field Hockey team and has been very active in coaching clinics throughout Canada.

The squad came in second in the Montreal CEGEP Intermediate Field Hockey League, a vast improvement over their fourth place finish in 1978. With several key players returning, coach Haig, is setting her eyes on the league championship, captured last year by the Bishop's-Champlain squad.

Haig's optimism is based on the quality and quantity of returning veterans led by Sandi Chinn, the team's "Most Valuable Player" in 1978 and 79. Other veterans include Julie Healy, the team's leading scorer with 5 goals; Janice Bennett, voted the "Most Improved Player" on last year's squad; Kathy Casey, Nancy McTier, Laura Prince, Sandy Romandini and Sandy Mosel.

The Stingers had a 4-3-1 league record in the regular season and dropped a 2-1 decision to Bishop's in the league playoffs. Concordia also participated in the annual Dufflecoat Senior Club Tournament, where they played very well against senior clubs despite losing all four games.

S O C C E R

The Women's Soccer team will feature a new coach and a new schedule for the 1980 season. Dave Kent, who guided the St. John's University (N.Y.) women's soccer team for the last two seasons, will take over the reins of the female booters. At the same time, the squad has opted out of the Montreal Western League to play an exhibition schedule against other universities with the ultimate goal of forming a Quebec University C.E.G.E.P. league.

Coach Kent will have a solid nucleus on which to build this year. There are 8 returning veterans led by co-captains Sue Harford and Gyorgyi Kiefer, Janet Werk, Debbie Ferdinand, Debbie Mulcair, Cathy Thériault, Denise Bienvenu and Chris Enos.

The Stingers will play a tough, competitive schedule this fall, highlighted by games against John Abbott, Vanier, Plattsburgh State, Manhattanville (Purchase, N.Y.) and West Point.

BASKETBALL

The 1979-80 season was a strange one for the Concordia Women's Basketball team as they played well throughout the season, yet finished fourth in the league standings. The cagers had an overall 16-16 record (4-8 in league play) in a competitive schedule which included nine games against teams ranked in the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union top ten rankings. While they showed signs of molding into an excellent squad, the Stingers suffered through periods of inconsistency.

Despite losing three starters in guards Linda Macpherson, Inger Breida and Joyce Tarbet, head coach Mike Hickey is confident that Concordia will improve upon last year's record.

"It is very hard to replace players of the calibre of Linda, Inger and Joyce" Hickey commented. "Besides being fine players the three girls provided the team with another dimension. Their attitudes were excellent, always helping the younger players improve."

Macpherson was a three time league All-Star and was selected as Concordia's "Female Athlete of the Year" in 1979. Breida was considered one of the top pure shooters in the league. Tarbet who received last year's "Women's Athletic Shield" as the outstanding female graduate was noted for her defensive ability.

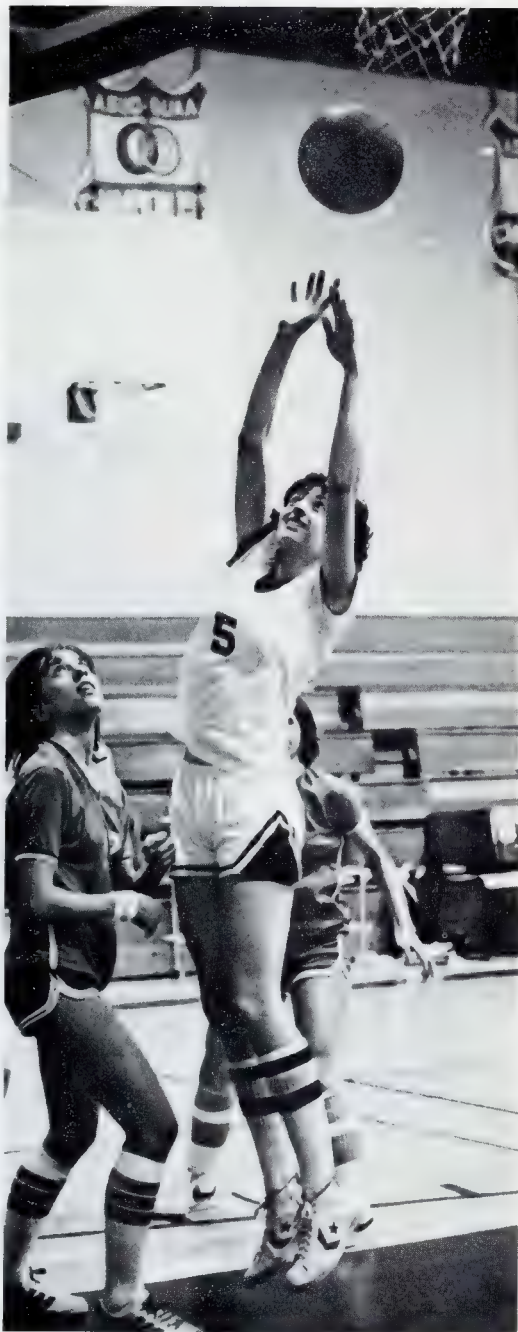

Returning veterans include Joann Bourque, Gay Owens and Caroline Zentner. Bourque has an outstanding year in 1979-80 as she finished third in the league in scoring (17.7 ppg) and tied for first in rebounding (9.0). Owens, a league All-Star in 1978 and 79 is an excellent offensive player who works to improve her defense and rebounding. Zentner has also worked hard during the off-season and could win a starting spot.

Another holdover from last year's squad is assistant coach Brian Petersen. Hickey credited Petersen with the development of several freshmen players as well as the expanded recruiting program.

However, Concordia's optimism is based as much on incoming students as it is on the returnees. From the local CEGEP's the Stingers have landed Janet Hylland, "Most Valuable Player" in the Junior College National Tournament and Beth Mansfield of John Abbott College; Edda Toso of Dawson College and Carolyn Marriott of Vanier College. Add the name of Dana Delgado, a 5'9" guard from Carver, Massachusetts and the Stingers will field a potentially powerful team.

The cager's biggest problem will be inexperience. Only two players (Bourke and Owens) have more than one year of university experience. With another challenging schedule that includes the Guelph, McGill, Southern Connecticut and Concordia Tournaments, the Stingers will have their hands full.

"We will be tested earlier in the season," Hickey remarked, "and that should prepare us for the league play in the second half. If the players develop as we hope, we should be a strong club in February."

JUNIOR OLYMPICS BASKETBALL CLINIC

The Canadian Olympic Association and the Royal Bank of Canada announced this fall the continuation of the Royal Bank Junior Olympics Clinic Program.

H O C K E Y

The freshman coaching duo of Billy Doherty and Mark Freisen did an outstanding job last year as they directed the women's hockey team to a second place finish in the Montreal Women's Hockey league. The female skaters had an overall record of 19-11-1 including a league mark of 10-6-1

Doherty's first season as mentor of the squad would have to be described as a rebuilding year at best. Coach Doherty was not hired until mid-September and represented the school's fourth women's hockey coach in as many years. Now with a year behind him, and an excellent returning roster, Doherty feels the team will have a successful season.

After finishing second to John Abbott in the regular season standings, Concordia swept past the McGill Martlets 2-0 in the best of three semi-finals series. Then the upstart Stingers handed John Abbott their first league defeat of the season 3-1 in the opening round of the final playoff series. Goals by Laurie McKeown, Francine Daoust and Julie Healy and the goaltending of Denise Bienvenu paced the Concordia team to victory.

The Islanders, quickly regrouped however, as they took the final two games (2-0 and 8-1) to win their third consecutive M.W.H.L. title. Although the season ended on a losing note, the fortunes of the Concordia hockey program are on the rise.

"We feel that we will put a team on the ice that is capable of winning the league championship," Doherty recently stated. "We have a solid nucleus returning and expect around 30 players to report for dry-land training. A more competitive training camp will definitely help us during the season."

Leading the list of veterans are goalie Denise Bienvenu, Concordia's female "Athlete of the Year"; Julie Healy, Laurie McKeown, Wendy Jamieson, Sandy Mosel, Sandi Romandini, Wendy Deacur, Kathy Casey, and the team's "Most Improved Player" Kathy Simpkins.

One player the Stingers will miss, due to graduation, will be winger Francine Daoust. Francine the team's leading scorer, was voted "Most Valuable Player" in 1979.

The Stingers will play a double home schedule against league opponents McGill, Bishop's and John Abbott. They will also play in the York, and U.N.B. Tournaments, as well as their own expanded eight-team tourney in an attempt to ready themselves for the league playoffs.

The Concordia Volleyball team returns to Quebec University Athletic Association action this season when they join the newly organized Coup du Quebec. The Stingers will play in several round-robin tournaments with Université de Laval, Université de Sherbrooke, Université du Québec à Trois Rivières and the McGill Martlets.

Coaches Nick Timtsenko and Ants Toke are confident that the Stingers will put up a good showing against the stiff competition provided by Laval and Sherbrooke.

"We have the capability to win the league" Timtsenko remarked. "But the important thing is that we are now able to compete on an equal level with the rest of the teams in the league. It has been a long uphill struggle, but we have finally reached parity."

Leading the list of returning players is Joanne Crevier, Jennifer Weightman, Lise Corriveau, Chris Ann Crowell, Chris Karam, Rosa Dovado, Niki Novotny, and Sue Maynard.

CONCORDIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL & HOCKEY TOURNAMENTS

The highlights for the women's basketball and hockey home schedules are the Concordia Women's Invitational Basketball Classic, and the Concordia Invitational Women's Hockey Tournament.

The women's basketball Classic was started in 1972 by Pat Boland. The four-team tourney quickly expanded to eight teams and annually included the finest teams in eastern Canada and northeastern United States.

This year's contingent appears to be as strong as ever. From the Atlantic provinces come the St. Mary's Huskies and the U.N.B. Red Bloomers; Guelph and Laurentian hailing from Ontario, the powerful St. John's Express from New York, and Bishop's, McGill and host, Concordia representing Quebec.

The women's hockey Tournament is one of the oldest in Canada and has expanded from four teams to an eight-team format. In the 12 year history of the tourney only two teams, the host Stingers and the York Yeowomen have captured two titles. Other tournament winners include McMaster University, Colby College, St. Lambert Cougars, Brown College, New Hampshire University and McGill University.

This year's field will feature Cornell University, Providence College, McGill University, McMaster University, Potsdam College, Université du Québec à Trois Rivières, John Abbott College and the host, Concordia Stingers.

TRAINING ROOM

An important aspect of the Concordia Athletic department is the excellent therapy and rehabilitative staff headed by Russ Blackwell and Kenny Lowe. The Clinic's main responsibility is the care and treatment of Concordia's varsity athletes. It has established a reputation throughout Montreal, as well by athletes from the city's various professional teams.

Russ has spent over 30 years as a trainer and also serves as equipment manager for the department. Lowe is in his second year as the department's therapist and supervises the over-all operation of the clinic area, as well as the six student trainers who care for the various Stinger squads. Kenny's experience includes working with the Montreal Alouettes.

Dave Campbell, who worked as a student trainer for three years, is in his second year as a graduate assistant, working with the men's football and basketball teams.

Commenting on the training room staff, Assistant Athletic Director, Doug Daigneault has stated that "we feel we have a big advantage over other university programs because of our therapy staff who keep our athletes healthy as well as rehabilitating injured players properly and quickly". Scores of former patients would whole-heartedly agree.

MICRON TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD JANUARY 9/10, 1981

Since the Invitational Tournament first began in 1967 as the Loyola Centennial, it has been a source of outstanding hockey talent. During its six year history, the Loyola Tourney attracted such outstanding teams as Michigan Tech, Harvard, Boston College, Boston University, Clarkson, Toronto, Alberta, St. Mary's and Sir George Williams.

The Centennial Tournament was superseded by Hockey Canada which Loyola hosted for two years. Hockey Canada discontinued its sponsorship and Sir George Williams University continued the tourney in 1974-75. Then with the merger of Loyola and Sir George it became the Concordia Centennial. In 1978-79 with the backing of MICRON, a major skate manufacturer it became known as the MICRON TOURNAMENT and continues to be Canada's outstanding College Hockey Tournament.

The 1981 contingent includes the University of Toronto Blues, the Brandon University Bobcats, the University of Illinois Chikas and the host, Concordia University Stingers. Action gets underway Friday, January 9th with the championship game slated for Saturday afternoon.

PEPSI CENTENNIAL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Montreal basketball fans will be treated to some outstanding cage action when the 14th Annual Pepsi Centennial Basketball Tournament gets underway on Friday, December 5th. The Wilfrid Laurier Golden Hawks, McGill Redmen, York Yeomen and Host Concordia Stingers will do battle on Friday, prelude to Saturday's afternoon finale.

Wilfrid Laurier, coached by Don Smith, is making its third appearance in the Centennial Tournament. McGill has a large nucleus of returning players, led by league All-Star Rick Rusk, as well as several fine rookie recruits.

York captured fifth place in the C.I.A.U. National Tournament by edging Concordia 85-76 and will be led by veterans Dave Coulthard, Bo Pelch and Peter Jones.

The Stingers, who captured their second tournament championship in the 1979 tourney by defeating Ottawa and McMaster, will have nine returning players in their line-up. While coach Doug Daigneault is hopeful of a third title, he knows that win or lose, the 1980 Pepsi Tournament will give his Concordia squad excellent competition and the local fans a taste of university basketball at its best.
